My Washington, D.C. office is able to provide assistance with tours for several historic points of interest in our nation's capital. Two of the more popular tours are of the U.S. Capitol and the White House. If you are interested in visiting our Capital, the visitors information page by clicking here.

Due to the limited availability of White House tours, requests typically require 4 to 6 months notice to process. Your visit is important to me, and my office will make every effort to accommodate all White House tour requests. provides a wealth of information on local attractions. To schedule a tour, please contact my Washington office

Please click here to request tours through my office.