Carnahan: "Anyone who runs a business will tell you that you can't budget three weeks at a time."

(WASHINGTON, D.C.) – Russ Carnahan (MO-3) released the following statement in response to the passage of a new three-week continuing resolution to fund the federal government.

"Anyone who runs a business will tell you that you can't budget three weeks at a time," Carnahan said.
It is fiscally irresponsible to keep kicking this can down the road; it's time for reasonable people from both parties to come to the table and work on real budget solutions that don't hurt our ability to grow jobs or threaten Social Security.

"I am hopeful that we can avoid a government shutdown that would hurt Missouri families and businesses at a time when our economy can least afford it ," Carnahan continued. "The only way we can do that is if we work together
